TOPIC Effective Backflow Programs, IEPA Title 35 - What it says in plain English - Learn how to effectively develop, implement, and enforce an effective cross-connection control program that meets all of the Illinois EPA requirements. Cross-Connection inspections, surveys and record keeping are the three key elements of all effective backflow prevention programs, how does each element relate to the others and how do you move forward from where you are.

PRESENTER Mike Eisenhauer, Backflow Solutions, Inc., meisenhauer@backflow.com
